

Dana Oh, OTR/L
Occupational Therapist

Dana Oh is a licensed Occupational Therapist. She pursued her Bachelor's Degree in Psychology at Georgia State University and Master's Degree in Occupational Therapy at the University of Southern California. Dana has experience working with children with developmental delay, Autism, Sensory Processing Disorder, visual and oculomotor difficulties, and dyspraxia. Dana enjoys utilizing the sensory integration, cognitive behavioral, and DIR Floortime model to provide client and family centered treatment. In addition, she is certified in Integrated Listening Systems and Interactive Metronome. In her spare time, Dana enjoys traveling, playing with her dog, painting, and spending time with her family and friends.